CONSENT FOR PSYCHOTHERAPY SERVICES

CONFIDENTIALITY: All information disclosed within sessions and the written records pertaining to those sessions are confidential and may not be revealed to anyone without your written permission, except where disclosure is required by law.

WHEN DISCLOSURE IS REQUIRED OR MAY BE REQUIRED BY LAW: Some of the circumstances where disclosure is required or may be required by law are: where there is a reasonable suspicion of child, dependent, or elder abuse or neglect; where a client presents a danger to self, to others, to property, or is gravely disabled; or when a client's family members communicate to Dr. Jay Saul that the client presents a danger to others. Disclosure may also be required pursuant to a legal proceeding by or against you. If you place your mental status at issue in litigation initiated by you, the defendant may have the right to obtain the psychotherapy records. In couple and family therapy, or when different family members are seen individually, even over a period of time, confidentiality and privilege do not apply between the couple or among family members, unless otherwise agreed upon. Dr. Jay Saul will use his clinical judgment when revealing such information. Dr. Jay Saul will not release records to any outside party unless authorized to do so by all adult parties who were part of the family therapy, couple therapy or other treatment that involved more than one adult client.

EMERGENCY: If there is an emergency during therapy, or in the future after termination, where Dr. Jay Saul becomes concerned about your personal safety, the possibility of you injuring someone else, or about you receiving proper psychiatric care, he will do whatever he can within the limits of the law to prevent you from injuring yourself or others and to ensure that you receive proper medical care. For this purpose, he may also contact the person whose name you have provided on the biographical sheet.

HEALTH INSURANCE & CONFIDENTIALITY OF RECORDS: Disclosure of confidential information may be required by your health insurance carrier or HMO/PPO/MCO/EAP in order to process the claims. If you so instruct Dr. Jay Saul, only the minimum necessary information will be communicated to the carrier. Dr. Jay Saul has no control over, or knowledge of, what insurance companies do with the information submitted or who has access to this information. You must be aware that submitting a mental health invoice for reimbursement carries a certain amount of risk to confidentiality, privacy or to future capacity to obtain health or life insurance or even a job. The risk stems from the fact that mental health information is likely to be entered into big insurance companies' computers and is likely to be reported to the National Medical Data Bank. Accessibility to companies' computers or to the National Medical Data Bank database is always in question as computers are inherently vulnerable to hacking and unauthorized access. Medical data has also been reported to have been legally accessed by law enforcement and other agencies, which also puts you in a vulnerable position.

LITIGATION LIMITATION: Due to the nature of the therapeutic process and the fact that it often involves making a full disclosure with regard to many matters which may be of a confidential nature, it is agreed that, should there be legal proceedings (such as, but not limited to divorce and custody disputes, injuries, lawsuits, etc.), neither you nor your attorney(s), nor anyone else acting on your behalf will call on Dr. Jay Saul to testify in court or at any other proceeding, nor will a disclosure of the psychotherapy records be requested unless otherwise agreed upon.

CONSULTATION: Dr. Jay Saul consults regularly with other professionals regarding clients; however, each client's identity remains completely anonymous and confidentiality is fully maintained.

E-MAILS, CELL PHONES, COMPUTERS, AND FAXES: It is very important to be aware that computers and unencrypted e-mail, texts, and e-faxes communication can be relatively easily accessed by unauthorized people and hence can compromise the privacy and confidentiality of such communication. E-mails, texts, and e-faxes, in particular, are vulnerable to such unauthorized access due to the fact that servers or communication companies may have unlimited and direct access to all e-mails, texts and e-faxes that go through them. While data on Dr. Jay Saul's laptop may be encrypted, e-mails and e-fax are not. It is always a possibility that e-faxes, texts, and email can be sent erroneously to the wrong address and computers. Unencrypted email or text provides as much privacy as a postcard. You should not communicate any information with your health care provider that you would not want to be included on a postcard that is sent through the Post Office. Dr. Jay Saul's laptop is equipped with virus protection and a password. Please notify Dr. Jay Saul if you decide to avoid or limit, in any way, the use of e-mail, texts, cell phone calls, phone messages, or e-faxes. If you communicate confidential or private information via unencrypted e-mail, texts or e-fax or via phone messages, Dr. Jay Saul will assume that you have made an informed decision, will view it as your agreement to take the risk that such communication may be intercepted, and will honor your desire to communicate on such matters. Please do not use texts, e-mail, voice mail, or faxes for emergencies.

RECORDS AND YOUR RIGHT TO REVIEW THEM: Both the law and the standards of Dr. Jay Saul's profession require that treatment records are kept for at least 7 years after the last service delivery date (or the age of 21 in the case of a minor). Unless otherwise agreed to be necessary, Dr. Jay Saul retains clinical records only as long as is mandated by New York State law. If you have concerns regarding the treatment records, please discuss them with Dr. Jay Saul. As a client, you have the right to review or receive a summary of your records at any time, except in limited legal or emergency circumstances or when Dr. Jay Saul assesses that releasing such information might be harmful in any way. In such a case, Dr. Jay Saul will provide the records to an appropriate and legitimate mental health professional of your choice. Considering all of the above exclusions, if it is still appropriate, and upon your request, Dr. Jay Saul will release information to any agency/person you specify unless Dr. Jay Saul assesses that releasing such information might be harmful in any way. When more than one client is involved in treatment, such as in cases of couple and family therapy, Dr. Jay Saul will release records only with signed authorizations from all the adults (or all those who legally can authorize such a release) involved in the treatment.

TELEPHONE & EMERGENCY PROCEDURES: If you need to contact Dr. Jay Saul between sessions, please leave a message at (516) 342-1575 and your call will be returned as soon as possible. Dr. Jay Saul checks messages a few times during the day, unless he is out of town. If an emergency situation arises, indicate it clearly in your message and if you need to talk to someone right away call 911. Please do not use email or faxes for emergencies. Dr. Jay Saul does not always check email or faxes daily.

PAYMENTS & INSURANCE REIMBURSEMENT: Clients are expected to pay the standard fee of $250/hour at the end of each session unless other arrangements have been made. All professional services provided, which may include psychotherapy, psychological assessment, telephone conversations, site visits, writing evaluations or letters, consultation with other professionals, release of information, reading records or e-mails, longer sessions, travel time, etc. will be charged at this rate, unless a different amount was indicated and agreed upon ahead of time. A valid credit card that is authorized to use for payment must be kept on file for sessions conducted via telemedicine. Please notify Dr. Jay Saul if any problems arise during the course of therapy regarding your ability to make timely payments. Clients who carry insurance should remember that professional services are rendered and charged to the clients and not to the insurance companies. Dr. Jay Saul does not accept insurance, and he should be considered as an out of network provider for all plans. Unless agreed upon differently, Dr. Jay Saul will provide you with a superbill at the end of each month, which you can then submit to your insurance company for reimbursement through any available out of network benefits, if you so choose. You must be aware that submitting a mental health invoice for reimbursement carries a certain amount of risk. Not all issues/conditions/problems which are dealt with in psychotherapy are reimbursed by insurance companies. It is your responsibility to verify the specifics of your coverage. If your account is overdue (unpaid) and there is no written agreement on a payment plan, Dr. Jay Saul can use legal or other means (courts, collection agencies, etc.) to obtain payment.

MEDIATION & ARBITRATION: All disputes arising out of, or in relation to, this agreement to provide psychotherapy services shall first be referred to mediation, before, and as a pre-condition of, the initiation of arbitration. The mediator shall be a neutral third party chosen by agreement of Dr. Jay Saul and the client(s). The cost of such mediation, if any, shall be split equally, unless otherwise agreed upon. In the event that mediation is unsuccessful, any unresolved controversy related to this agreement should be submitted to and settled by binding arbitration in Nassau County, New York in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association which are in effect at the time the demand for arbitration is filed. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that your account is overdue (unpaid) and there is no agreement on a payment plan, Dr. Jay Saul can use legal means (court, collection agency, etc.) to obtain payment. The prevailing party in arbitration or collection proceedings shall be entitled to recover a reasonable sum as and for attorney's fees. In the case of arbitration, the arbitrator will determine that sum.

THE PROCESS OF THERAPY/EVALUATION AND SCOPE OF PRACTICE: Participation in therapy can result in a number of benefits to you, including improving interpersonal relationships and resolution of the specific concerns that led you to seek therapy. Working toward these benefits, however, requires effort on your part. Psychotherapy requires your very active involvement, honesty, and openness in order to change your thoughts, feelings, and/or behavior. Dr. Jay Saul will ask for your feedback and views on your therapy, its progress, and other aspects of the therapy and will expect you to respond openly and honestly. Sometimes more than one approach can be helpful in dealing with a certain situation. During evaluation or therapy, remembering or talking about unpleasant events, feelings, or thoughts can result in you experiencing considerable discomfort or strong feelings of anger, sadness, worry, fear, etc., or experiencing anxiety, depression, insomnia, etc. Dr. Jay Saul may challenge some of your assumptions or perceptions or propose different ways of looking at, thinking about, or handling situations, which can cause you to feel very upset, angry, depressed, challenged, or disappointed. Attempting to resolve issues that brought you to therapy in the first place, such as personal or interpersonal relationships, may result in changes that were not originally intended. Psychotherapy may result in decisions about changing behaviors, employment, substance use, schooling, housing, or relationships. Sometimes a decision that is positive for one family member is viewed quite negatively by another family member. Change will sometimes be easy and swift, but more often it will be slow and even frustrating. There is no guarantee that psychotherapy will yield positive or intended results. During the course of therapy, Dr. Jay Saul is likely to draw on various psychological approaches according, in part, to the problem that is being treated and the assessment of what will best benefit you. These approaches include, but are not limited to, behavioral, cognitive-behavioral, cognitive, psychodynamic, existential, system/family, developmental (adult, child, family), humanistic or psycho-educational. Dr. Jay Saul does not provide medication or prescription recommendation nor legal advice, as these activities do not fall within his scope of practice.

TREATMENT PLANS: Within a reasonable period of time after the initiation of treatment, Dr. Jay Saul will discuss with you his working understanding of the problem, treatment plan, therapeutic objectives, and view of the possible outcomes of treatment. If you have any unanswered questions about any of the procedures used in the course of your therapy, their possible risks, Dr. Jay Saul's expertise in employing them, or about the treatment plan, please ask and you will be answered fully. You also have the right to ask about other treatments for your condition and their risks and benefits. If you do not follow the treatment plan, Dr. Jay Saul has the right to terminate treatment.

TERMINATION: As set forth above, after the first couple of meetings, Dr. Jay Saul will assess if he can be of benefit to you. Dr. Jay Saul does not work with clients who, in his opinion, he cannot help. In such a case, if appropriate, Dr. Jay Saul will give you referrals that you can contact. If at any point during psychotherapy Dr. Jay Saul either assesses that he is not effective in helping you reach the therapeutic goals or perceived you as non-compliant or non-responsive, and if you are available and/or it is possible and appropriate to do, he will discuss with you the termination of treatment and conduct pre-termination counseling. In such a case, if appropriate and/or necessary, Dr. Jay Saul would give you a couple of referrals that may be of help to you. If you request it and authorize it in writing, Dr. Jay Saul will talk to the psychotherapist of your choice in order to help with the transition. If at any time you want another professional's opinion or wish to consult with another therapist, Dr. Jay Saul will give you a couple of referrals that you may want to contact, and if he has your written consent, Dr. Jay Saul will provide her or him with the essential information needed. You have the right to terminate therapy and communication at any time. If you choose to do so, upon your request and if appropriate and possible, Dr. Jay Saul will provide you with names of other qualified professionals whose services you might prefer.

DUAL RELATIONSHIPS: Despite a popular perception, not all dual or multiple relationships are unethical or avoidable. Therapy never involves sexual or any other dual relationship that impairs your therapist's objectivity, clinical judgment or can be exploitative in nature. Dr. Jay Saul will assess carefully before entering into non-sexual and non-exploitative dual relationships with clients. It is important to realize that in some communities, particularly small towns, military bases, university campus, etc., multiple relationships are either unavoidable or expected. Dr. Jay Saul will never acknowledge working with anyone without his/her written permission. Many clients have chosen Dr. Jay Saul as their therapist because they knew him before entering therapy, and/or are personally aware of his professional work and achievements. Nevertheless, Dr. Jay Saul will discuss with you the often-existing complexities, potential benefits and difficulties that may be involved in dual or multiple relationships. Dual or multiple relationships can enhance trust and therapeutic effectiveness but can also detract from it and often it is impossible to know which ahead of time. It is your responsibility to advise Dr. Jay Saul if the dual or multiple relationship becomes uncomfortable for you in any way. Dr. Jay Saul will always listen carefully and respond to your feedback and will discontinue the dual relationship if he finds it interfering with the effectiveness of the therapy or your welfare and, of course, you can do the same at any time.

SOCIAL NETWORKING AND INTERNET SEARCHES: At times, Dr. Jay Saul may conduct a web search on clients before the beginning of therapy or during therapy. If you have concerns or questions regarding this practice, please discuss them with Dr. Jay Saul. He does not accept friend requests from current or former clients on social networking sites, such as Facebook. Dr. Jay Saul believes that adding clients as friends on these sites and/or communicating via such sites is likely to compromise their privacy and confidentiality. For this same reason, Dr. Jay Saul requests that clients not communicate with him via any interactive or social networking web sites.

CANCELLATION: Since the scheduling of an appointment involves the reservation of time specifically for you, a minimum of 24 hours (1 day) notice is required for re-scheduling or canceling an appointment.

Unless a different agreement is arranged with Dr. Jay Saul, the full fee will be charged for sessions missed without such notification. Most insurance companies do not reimburse for missed sessions.

TREATMENT OF CHILDREN AND FAMILIES: Children have the best chance to benefit from therapy if both parents are involved and cooperate with each other and the child's therapist. It is understood that without mutual cooperation, the therapist may not be able to act in the child's best interests and may have to end therapy. Each parent has the right to information about the child's treatment and to the treatment records regarding the child. Dr. Jay Saul may release information or records to either parent without any additional authorization of the other. If both of a child's parents are consenting to therapy, it is agreed upon that neither will end the child's therapy without the agreement of the other parent, and that if there is disagreement about the child's continuing in therapy, attempts will be made to come to an agreement, by counseling if necessary, before ending the child's therapy. When treatment involves family therapy, it is understood that, except in exceptional circumstances, Dr. Jay Saul cannot keep secrets from other family members who are actively involved in the therapy because this might harm the person who does not know.

In the event custody of or visitation with the child is contested in a legal proceeding, each parent and their attorneys will not require Dr. Jay Saul to testify at any of the proceedings, because to do so would hurt the child's treatment, because his role is a therapeutic and not evaluative one, and because forensic professionals would be better able and more appropriate to conduct any necessary evaluation. Because of these limitations, Dr. Jay Saul will not be able to give any opinion regarding custody, visitation or any other legal issue. If such a proceeding does occur, Dr. Jay Saul's role will be limited to providing to a mental health professional appointed to perform such an evaluation, and/or to the attorneys, law guardian, if any, and the judge involved in the legal proceeding, written information regarding, and/or the record of, the child's treatment; Dr. Jay Saul will provide these either as required by law or upon the authorization of either parent.

I have read the above carefully. I understand the policies and agree to comply with them.
